

Iranian president Ebrahim Raisi delivers a speech at the 15th summit of the BRICS group of countries held in Johannesburg, South Africa, on August 24, 2023. The BRICS leaders announced during the summit that they would welcome six new members in January 2024: Iran, Argentina, Egypt, Ethiopia, Saudi Arabia, and the UAE.

Precious legacies of Raisi's economic diplomacy

Raisi dedicated his life to the people's welfare and economic prosperity. During three years of his tireless presidency, he was a source of many services to the progress of the Islamic Republic of Iran on the world stage.

One of the brilliant areas of his activities was the foreign policy.

In addition to the tangible outcomes of the policies of president Raisi's government in boosting foreign relations in the path of realizing national interests, increasing national power, enhancing foreign trade, and neutralizing Western sanctions have certainly been the cornerstones of many actions that can be built upon by future governments.

Here we focus on a small but important part of president Raisi's foreign policy achievements.
